Sarah Morse - Contagious Courage

Activational Courage Speaker

Sarah works with future-focused health leaders and teams to build the human courage to think critically, speak up when it matters and shape what comes next.

Who is Sarah Morse?

For over thirty years, Sarah Morse has witnessed courage where the stakes are high. From drought-stricken villages in Zambia at seventeen, to palliative care wards, a Romanian orphanage, humanitarian crises and the fight against modern slavery, she has seen what happens when ordinary people have the courage to act.

They change what's possible.

One courageous action becomes evidence for another. Someone else steps forward. Courage spreads.

Sarah brings those hard-won lessons to organisations facing a rapidly changing future shaped by AI.

Sarah hasn't just studied courage. She has lived it. Now she activates it in others.

Change What's Possible

The future won't belong to those who can simply adapt to change. It will belong to those with the courage to shape what comes next.

AI can generate answers and predict what might be. Future-facing organisations need courageous humans who can think critically, speak when it matters, imagine what doesn't yet exist—and act when someone needs to go first.

Through her Five Laws of Courage Framework, Sarah activates leaders and teams to move beyond hesitation, take courageous action and create the conditions for courage to spread.

The future isn't just about getting better at AI. It's about the courage to be human.
